Sen. Stamas receives infant mental health award

Oct. 26, 2005 – State Sen. Tony Stamas, R-Midland, was presented with the Michigan Association of Infant Mental Health’s first Infant Mental Health Advocate Award Wednesday. Stamas received the award from Midland resident Denise Weckesser, coordinator of the Parent Education and Infant Mental Health for the Community Mental Health of central Michigan. Stamas was selected as the award’s first recipient for his support and services to infants, young children and families during the appropriations process for 2006.
